

Crystals for Enhancing Prosperity

We could all benefit from bringing more abundance into our lives. Take steps to make this happen by using a proactive approach, and allowing crystals to help you to achieve your goals.

An excellent crystal for prosperity is Citrine. According to Feng Shui, this stone will work best when placed in the farthest left corner from the front door to attract wealth to the household. It dissolves any negative energy that it absorbs, and therefore, is exceptional for clearing the chakras too. A stone for those seeking success, Citrine can help build self-confidence and self-worth.

Moss Agate is another crystal to attract abundance into your life, while also releasing fear and stress, which can have a negative impact on achieving one's goals. As its name suggests, this crystal often has markings that resemble moss and it is strongly connected to nature.

Aventurine will help you to recognize the possibilities in your life. Using this stone will bring good luck and prosperity into your life. It has the ability to block electromagnetic and geopathic stress, making it an excellent choice for frequent cell phone users. Simply taping the stone to the back of your cell phone will protect you from the potentially harmful emanations.

Green Tourmaline, also known as Verdelite, is a magnet for prosperity and abundance. Beneficial to the physical heart and the Heart Chakra, Green Tourmaline promotes life and growth. Wearing a Green Tourmaline pendant will not only attract wealth, it will also stimulate your creative side.

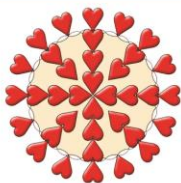

Another green crystal you can carry with you for abundance is Green Jade. This stone has been used for centuries as a good luck stone and as a talisman. This prosperous stone represents purity and, like many other green stones, is helpful to the Heart Chakra as well.

To keep an optimistic outlook, try carrying Chrysoprase in your pocket. This vibrant green stone can bring you hope, prosperity, joy and health. Because it works well with the Heart Chakra, wearing it over your heart as a pendant will help to heal past hurts in relationships and can also help you to move past problems to embrace the prosperity you deserve.

Alexandrite can bring wealth and joy into your life. This stone is helpful to those with low self-respect and strengthens an individual's willpower and self-importance. Try placing this stone in your wallet to attract wealth and luck to you.

When searching for the "right" stone for you compare different stones and select the one that you are drawn to. Whether the stone's energy or its appearance calls to you, your intuition is the best guide as to which stone will work best for you. Embrace your new prosperity!
